Your Journey To Purchase New Pews Begins Here!

At Imperial, we understand that the journey to purchase new pews for your congregation is very complicated. It is our goal to partner with you to help simplify the process and to put our more than 60 years of experience to work for your benefit.

From initial budget estimates through cleaning up after the final pews are installed, we are here to walk with you every step of the way. Our in-house design team, coordinating with our network of local factory sales consultants, will work with you to understand your needs and priorities – and turn those into the best pew seating and furniture combinations to accomplish your goals – and more!

Let's Get Started!

Standard Pew Bodies

Pew Backs

Imperial offers a variety of comfortable options for pew backs and seats. Upholstered pew backs can have either 2" thick or 2 1/4" thick foam with lumbar cushion. Option on either is available to have matching fabric or finished wood on the backside of the back. Front side of the back may also have defined back panels. (page 13)

Pew Seats

Imperial offers a full line-up of the most comfortable seats in the industry. Foam seats are available with 3", 4", and 5" of foam. Imperial also manufactures the most dependable and luxurious spring seat available.

Lumbar Support

Studies on seating define comfort as the absence of discomfort. The primary determining factor in back comfort is the contour of the spine. The spine is a flexibly segmented column of bone divided into 25 parts. The most important of these are the five segments in the lower portion of the back called the lumbar area. These segments provide nearly all back movement. When seated, the lumbar area is placed in an unnatural curvature and can become uncomfortable.

Imperial has developed a lumbar cushion to conform to and support the normal body curvature in this area. It properly positions the upper body and lumbar support to significantly add to its comfort.

Angle Back to Seat

The pew back supports only 4% of the occupant's weight and acts primarily as a stabilizer. To provide proper stability, the seat to back angle should be in a range from 95 to 105 degrees. The Imperial pew has an angle of 100 degrees.

This proper angle coupled with the support from the lumbar cushion in the back as well as the scientifically designed contoured cushioned seat eliminates pressure in the critical comfort zones to deliver seating comfort never experienced in a church pew before. Call us and see for yourself. You will be glad you did!

Overholtzer Series Pews

In 2003, Imperial Woodworks, Inc. purchased the assets and designs of Overholtzer Church Furnishings, which had operated out of Modesto, CA for many years. While Overholtzer Church Furnishings no longer exists, Imperial Woodworks, Inc. now continues to manufacture the unique features and designs of the Overholtzer product that made it so popular for many years for thousands of congregations. Ask your local factory sales consultant for more details about premium features such as the ergonomic serpentine spring cushioned seat, or the solid oak 3" thick shoulder-rolled toprail.
